

ERMP Press Release

Raleigh, NC.

On February 19, 2016 Justin Perry was sworn in as President of the Board of Directors.

The President of the Board of Directors is a three year term. President William C. Vatauvuk's term in office expired on December 31st, 2015. At the January Board of Director's meeting, the Board elected Justin Perry as the new President. His inauguration ceremony was slated for February 19, 2016.

The Inauguration Ceremony was held at the Historic North Carolina State Capital on the House side. The Chief Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court, Mark Martin swore in President Justin Perry at 3:45 PM.

Performing musical presentations were performed by Gregory Meckley, Zach Drill and Christine Jackle.

Reading were performed by Tony Adams, JD Demers, and LaMont Johnson.

Anthony Dowling, Executive Director of ERMP states; "Our sincere appreciation extends to Chief Justice Mark Martin for doing us the honor of conducting the swearing in. His comments about how important the film industry is to North Carolina's economy were well appreciated."

About ERMP

Eno River Media Production, established in March 1999, is dedicated to educate, facilitate and advocate the growth of the movie and television industry in North Carolina.

ERMP will accomplish this mission by educating, facilitating, nurturing and uniting independent North Carolina film and video makers, allied industries, civic and governmental organizations by propagating a network of industry professionals.